Vittorio Capello, DVM, Dipl ECZM (Small Mammal)
Wins Harrison's Pet Products' 2009
Clinical Case Report Contest

West Palm Beach, FL, January 04, 2010 – Harrison's Pet Products announced that Dr. Vittorio Capello, a small animal practitioner from Milan, Italy, was selected by the company's medical review team as the winner of their 2009 Clinical Case Report of the Year award. The award included a $1000 cash prize. His submission entitled, "Use of HEALx Soother Plus® for Postoperative Management of Extensive Osteomyelitis of the Mandible Following Periapical Infection in a Mini Lop Rabbit," may be viewed at www.exoticdvm.com/ContestWinner.

The annual contest involves photographic documentation of an animal case in which one of the Harrison's Pet Products (AVIx, HEALx or Harrison's Bird Foods) is used alone or in conjunction with other products to successfully resolve a disorder. Each case is rated according to medical relevance, case completeness, photo quality (before, during and after procedure) and overall presentation.
